RICHMOND CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY MORNING JANUARY 26, 1916. NUMBER 304

SEEK WERNSE AS DELEGATE TO G. O. P. MEETING

Harry W. Wernse, secretary of the Richmond Inductrial Commission may be chosen as a delegate to the Republican National convention at Chicago from the Third congressional district of California. Wernse is also connected with the Real Estate business in this city and is well known and popular.

The District which friends of Wernse desire him to represent, embrace Contra Costa, San Jouquin, Sacramento, Yolo, Napa and Solano counties. Delegates will be selected at the May Presidential primaries.

If Wernse aspired to the candidacy there is little doubt but that he will make the race a merry one for his rivals. He has been a strong Republican and is well known throughout the district.

Daylight Delivery Is Victory For Labor

One of the principal virtues of Health Officer Blake's new pasteurized milk ordinance which was adopted by the city council at its meeting last Monday night is the appended "daylight delivery" clause, which makes it unlawful to deliver milk within the city limits during the hours of 8 p. m. and 6 a. m.

Dr. Blake evidently had in mind the conditions which surround the life of the average man employed in the dairy business and especially in the delivery end when this provision was made and was aware of the fact that such means of procuring a livlihood is perhaps not the most desirable in the world under the conditions which have governed it heretofore.

The milk wagon whose rattle over the cobbles distrubs our midnight slumbers must be driven and the driver thereof must set his alarm clock for the wee sma' hours of the morning in order to deliver his "route" at the time the most of us secure our portion of the lacteal fluid.

"The milk man's" lot ss far from being an enviable one. His hours are irregular and long and his task difficult.

Whether or not those who framed the new city ordinance were cognizant of these several facts does not lessen the good which has been done. The milk men (those who are employed as drivers) have indeed been done a kindly deed and labor has again been victorious.

Dr. Blake stated last evening that one of the things which prompted the addition of the daylight delivery clause to the enactment was the fact that investigation has shown that each night numerous bottles of milk are stolen, some of which instances are reported and some of which are not. Again the "milk man" is the "Goat". He is blamed by the customers and by the employer for not delivering the milk and the culprit who really commits the deed laughs in his sleeve.

It will also be far easier after the new ordinance goes into effect to see that the regulations are adhered to as the Health Office will be in a better position to observe the business in the day time.

EXHIBITS LIFE SAVING BELT

H. Mills gave a demonstration of the Whistler Bray life saving belt at the foot of Third street in the Cutting Canal Sunday afternoon last at 2:30 o'clock.

Captain George Whistler Bray, inventor of the belt and also the coats for Alaskan hunters and the steamship, life-saving pillow, lectured to the ausience. He announces that he is negotiating with the city to appear with a troupe of several assistants in a stunt for the Fourth of July celebration.

BENEFIT WHIST PARTY SATURDAY

An able committee has charge of the benefit whist party which is to be given at the Richmond Clubhouse on Nevin avenue next Saturday evening.

The party is for the benefit of the widow of a late Santa Fe employe and is is expected that a large attendance will mark the event as a successful one.

The attractive prizes are to be awarded to the players making the highest scores are being donated.

Refreshments will be served and the small price of twenty five cents will be charged.

HIGH JINKS PLANNED BY ONETAHS

The Adoption Degree was conferred on Arthur Lance at the meeting of the Onetah Tribe of Redmen last evening at Pythian Castle. Two old members were reinstated.

A general good time is planned by the Indians for the first meeting night next month, February 8th when a program, entertainment smoker and banquet is to be held.

Past Sachem W. F. Wilson was presented by the tribe with a hand some gold watch fob engraved with the emblem of the order.

HIGH OFFICERS BANQUETED BY N. D. G. W.

Grand President Mrs. Marganet Grotehill of Alta Parlor No. 3 of San Francisco accompanied by delegations from Berkeley and Piedmont and Miss Margaret Cuhana, District Deputy of San Francisco attended the meeting of the local lodge of Native Daughters which took place last evening at Pythian Castle.

Following the presentation of several beautiful bouquets to the high officers and an oil painting from the exposition to Mrs. Geotehill, the guests were escorted to the lower banquet hall where an elaborate spread was served.

The committee which arranged the banquet consisted of the following members of the lodge.

Mrs. Tillie Summers, Chairman; Mrs. Etta King, Mrs. Louise Krumdick, and Mrs. Grace Black.

TO CONSTRUCT NEW BUILDING

Dr. W. E. Cunningham is planning for the erection of a new two story and basement brick building on his property at the south east corner of Ninth street and Macdonald avenue. A call for bids will be issued early next week. Architect James Narbett designed the plans.

CHRIST CHURCH BUYS SITE ON NEVIN AVE.

First Church of Christ, Scientist have purchased two lots on the corner of Nevin Ave. and Twelfth St. adjoining the property of the Richmond Club. These lots have a frontage of fifty feet on Nevin Ave., and centrally located, and the surroundings are all that could be desired for church purposes.

ODD FELLOWS BURY PIONEER

Funeral services were held today in Odd Fellows' Hall, this city for Henry G. Dohrmann the aged Stege pioneer, who passed away Saturday on a Berkeley street car. The services were held under the auspices of Oakland Lodge, No. 118, Odd Fllows of which the deceased was a member, the regular ceremonial of the order.

Dohrmann was the husband of the late Mary Dohrmann and father of Frederick Dohrmann, Minnie S. Dohrmann, Teresa Dohrmann and William C. Dohrmann, and brother of J. H. Dohrmann, He was a native of Germany, aged 81 years.

For many years he had lived in Stege where he was the first settler, owning large property interests there.

Dohrmann was engaged in the Realty and Insurance business in Richmond for about sixteen years and was well known throughout Contra Costa county.

MONEY SPENT BY COUNCIL SHOULD BE LIMITED

—WILDGRUBE

"By all means let us have a new charter for the city of Richmond.'

Thus spoke Attorney H. D. Wildgrube when interviewed last evening by the News as to his stand on the movement which has been started by the freeholders of this city for the drafting of a new charter.

"There are a number of reasons why this action should be taken" stated Wildgrube, pre-eminent among them being the fact that the present charter places no limit to the amount of money which can be expended by the council without first submitting it to the people". "The council is allowed to contract large debts and the citizens of Richmond are given no voice in the matter."

"I believe that there should be five councilmen and that these should be paid a sufficient salary that they might devote their entire time to the business of conducting the affairs of the city. They should have an office where matters which the public may wish to take up with them could be transacted in accordance with the convenience of the public."

Attorney Wildgrube also expressed the opinion that a city council in a city the size of Richmond should meet every day instead of once a week as at present.

HELP LITTLE EIGHT YEAR OLD CHILD TO SAVE HER EYESIGHT

Donations of large or small sums of money will be received at the Daily News office to secure hospital accomodations for Little eight year old Francis Kuchia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kuchia of 1375 Maine street.

Two years ago the child suffered an attack of measles which resulted in the loss of one eye. Since then the other eye has become affected and unless it is removed the little girl will lose the sight of both and will become completely blind.

Dr. C. R. Bake is attending the child and has volunteered his services free of charge to perform the operation if hospital accomodations will be provided.

The father of the child, who is one of seven, is out of employment and the family is in straitened circumstances.

Dr. Blake recently took the child to a specialist in San Francisco and the conference which followed resulted in the decision of both physicians that the eye which is now blind must be removed. The child who attends the Grant school has been forced to give up her studies on account of her rapidly failing sight.

The matter deserves the attention of charitably inclined residents of this city.

A lecture on the topic "Christian Science" will be given by Clarence W. Chadwick, C. S. B. of Omaha Nebraska, at Lincoln School auditorium at 8 o'clock p.m. April 17th.

GEORGE BLACK HEADS LOCAL RETAIL CLERK'S ASSOCIATION

A well attended meeting of the local Retail Clerks' Union was held last evening at Pythian Castle. George E. Desepte, of Local 648 Grocery Clerk's Union of San Francisco announced his candidacy for Third Vice president of the International Association of retail clerks.

The local Union elected delegates to the Central Labor council as follows: H. G. Hollingsbaugh, Ed. Writeside, Joe Bottom.

Fifteen of the clerks of Richmond Local paid a visit to the Oakland retail clerks last Wednesday, January 19th. An enjoyable time was had and a banquet served by the Oakland Union was much enjoyed by the visitors.

Officers of Local No. 1179 of Richmond were installed at Oakland together with the officers of the Oakland branch. Following are the officers of the Richmond local.

George Black, president; Joe Bottom, First Vice President, Glessner Chandler, Recording Secretary; R. H. Cunningham, Financial Secre. Miss Stella Adair, Treasurer; Ernest Rowden, Guide, Frank Smith Guardian.

THE OLD AGE FIGHT

The "back to the land" movement of today is not new nor original to the age. Appreciation o fthe fact that the dispossession of the masses by the classes in ownership of the land is one of the fundamental wrongs and errors of society, existing centuries ago. Neither irrigation nor reclamation are modern, in origin, nor is the use of government power to bulwark privilege and curb the ambitions of the masses new or novel.

We read that in the years 1649-50 there arose a strange party in England called the Diggers. They might be seen in large numbers in some localities diligently digging up and cultivating the wast lands and out-of-the-way places. They objected to the land being held by a few proud, covetous men, to "bag and barn up the treasures of the earth from others." Yet as one of their leaders said, "they intend to meddle only with what was common and untilled, and to make it fruitful for the use of man." Gerard Winstanley, their chief leader, urged that the poor should be settled on the common or waste lands, and that it this way the country would yield mueh larger crops, the hungry be fed and times be bade better for everybody.

The Diggers were very peaceable people and not at all disposed to make trouble, but the movement was suppressed by the authorities. Nevertheless it had its influence in later years; rom 1760 to 1830 more than a thousand acts of parliament for inclosing and utilizing wasts lands were adopted and the privileged classes got the lands.—Stockton Record.

AGAINST "SPEEDING UP"

In an address on "speeding up" systems in industry Dr. Hayhurst of the Ohio State Board of Health declared that the benefits derived by workers are not in proportion to the benefits gained by employers. Another objectionable feature, he declared was the fact that workmen do not receive enough increased revenue to buy food to supply the additional energy required by the increased work, and that the variety of employment which served as a rest was absent in most so-called "scientific systems."

A GERMAN PROFESSOR STRONG FOR ROOSEVELT

One of the most noted members of the faculty of Harvard is Professor Munsterburg, a distinguished psychologist, whose name is known throughout the world as a leader in his particular profession.

Since the war began the Professor has had no little to say in defense of Germany, being permitted much license in that regard by the institution in which he is employed.

But in advocating the choice of Roosevelt for President as the candidate of the German-American, Munsterburg surely is going far beyond the bounds of the discretion that should govern the members of a college faculty, no matter how liberal may be its management.

If every other Harvard professor exercised the same freedom or license, the institution could not fail to suffer, and might soon be in a deplorable condition of strife and illfeeling.

Aside from these considerations, Munsterburg would show far more sagacity if he refrained from putting the Colonel forward as the candidate of the German vote, with a declaration of confidence that if elected he would be a pro-German President, dsspite the early attacks which Roosevelt made upon Germany with relation to the invasion of Belguim.

The Professor seems to rely more upon the Colonel's martial spirit than anything else, in the assumption that he would prove, if elected ,to be in sympathy iwth Teutonic aims. He expresses confidence that if Roosevelt had been in the White House when the war broke out he would have been the leader of the anti-Allies."

And, by the way, it is said that in the beginning of the conflict, and before Belguim was invaded, the Colonel manifested sympathy for the German side.

It is rather odd, however, that the Professor should attribute Roosevelt's alignment with anti-German sentiment, following the fall of Belguim, to "his perpetual desire to be with the masses."

On the whole, the Professor's advocacy is neither helpful to Roosevelt politicaly nor creditable to the Colonel as a man and a leader of men.

Beyond that, however, it is humilitating even to think that the election of a President of the United States might in any way hings upon the votes of those citizens of this country of foreign birth who would have the Executive of the land of their allegiance subservient to the interests of the land of their nativity.

This is a lucky Winter for "Rainmaker" Hatfield.

It is related that he made a contract with the authorities at San Diego by which they are bound to pay him $10,000 in case 100,000,000,000 gallons of water low thi sseason into a certain city reservoir.

At last accounts San Diego was not only in a fair way to get the desired quantity of water but also very much more—without, however and credit due to him.

If Hatfield has like contigent rain contracts in other parts of Southern California, he soon may be in a position to retire from business.

In these days of promistuous abuse of everybody daring to differ with the rabid prohibitionists, the Bee saw fit to state that "George Washington ran a distillery and Abraham Lincoln sold whisky."

On which the Stockton Record comments—in an editorial that would fill about a column in the Bee—that "George Washington was a sparing user of liquors," and that Abraham Lincoln a teetotaler—winding up its article with copious extracts from temperance orations by the martyred President.

Nobody disputes what the Record said.

And having repeated it. The Bee also repeats its original editorial statemen concerning the Father of the Nation and its Savior.

California's crops last year were valued at $240,000,000.

The outlook for 1916 is even better. Despite heavy damage done by high water, the drenching received by millions of acres commonly arid or semi-arid, along with ample supplies of water stored for irrigation, ensures an uncommonly large crop area and heavy yields, assuming that the average Spring rains may be counted upon.

It is an old saying that "flood years are fat years."

There is every indication that 1916 will prove a year of remarkable prosperity.

Consul W. F. Kelly at Rome estimates that Italy is losing $100,000,000 annually from the absence of tourists. Hotels and shopkeepers dependent upon them are becoming bankrupt.

So that class has a reason of its own for peace.

Dependability

We are as much interested in any article you buy here, after you have bought it, as we were the day it came into our store.

We do not consider our responsibility at an end when an article is sold, but feel that every article that we sell, whether it be a diamond ring or a Big Ben, must give satisfaction and be just as we represent it.

This policy is bringing us new customers daily. Are you one of them?

Golden State Superiority
More Than a Belief

All along we knew Golden State Butter was the very highest quality possible.
The selected cream of which it is made, the unusual care and skill exercised in its making, the scrupulous cleanliness observed in our creameries, the pasteurization, the packing in sealed cartons, we believe to be the foundation for our claims of superiority for

GOLDEN STATE BUTTER

But when the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco 1915, bestowed upon Golden State Butter the Grand Prize, the highest award, in a world's competition for the very qualities we knew it possessed, our belief received the backing of highest authority.
Golden State Butter is pasteurized, which insures its wholesomeness and gives it unusual keeping qualities.
